

NO INTERNAL CLIENT DATA REQUIRED

Benefit from impactful insights from day one with intelligence that doesn't require any internal client data.

At Strider, all our data is open source. That means we leverage sources that are publicly available on the internet. For that reason, one of the unique benefits of our intelligence is that we don't require any ingestion of client data. We call this "Zero-Touch Architecture."

This structure provides several benefits that start at the procurement process and continues well into the use of our platform.

Learn more about why our clients appreciate our Zero-Touch Architecture approach by chatting with a Strider representative, or by booking a demo.

Immediate Access to Critical Data

From the very first time you open our platform, you'll get critical insights into your talent, technology, and supply chains without providing Strider a single data point. Our data often acts as critical supplemental information to internal investigations, compliance navigation, mergers and acquisitions, and more.

Simplified Procurement Process

Most organizations have security and privacy regulations when a third party handles their internal data. Because we don't require any internal data, those regulations don't apply. This allows for significantly easier cross-department collaboration, buy-in, and onboarding.

Regularly Updated Data

Compliance regulations and the risk landscape are constantly changing. Because our data is open source, we regularly update it to stay on top of the latest changes and updates pertinent to your organization.
